Mr. Wilkinson, (rep.) of Minn., proceeded to speak at length in favor of the speedy confiscation of the proper-ty of the rebels. He also protested against the chrosious doctrine that would give despoties-powers to the President. He thought there was too much leniency towards the property of

Mr. Cowan said he would put down the rebellion with the whole force of the government, and hang the guilty leaders as high as Haman. But it is not the way to suppress the rebellion to pass measures obnoxious to all loyal men from the Border States. Hardly a day passes but measures are introduced by a certain school which are calculated to make seemies instead of friends.

Meeting of the Conservative Members of Congress.

A meeting was held this afternoon in accordance with the invitation, as announced yesterday, of the conserva-tive members of Congress, in the hall of the House of in the chair and Mr. Cox, of Ohio, acting as Secretary. At the previous meeting Messrs. Crittenden, Wickliffe, Richardson, Biddle and Cox were appointed a committee to prepare resolutions, and Mr. Wickliffe now presented

Several of these resolutions gave rise to discussion

Mr. MENZIES, of Kentucky, said he was not disposed to assert that even if the Confiscation and Emancipation bitls should become laws, he would have little hope of a speedy termination of the war. No; his hope was in the people, to whom, in such a case, he would appeal from the lawmakers.

Mr. JOHNSON, of Pennsylvania, said it seemed to him tha the hope of the gentieman from Kentucky was that the people would repudiate the laws; but if such laws shall be passed the presumption was that they will be en orced.

Mr. Menzuss explained, to the effect that his meaning was that they would not be approved by the people of unifored to remain en the statute books.
Mr. Allen, of Ohio, looked on the emancipation are deliberations.

Conversation then ensued involving the propriety of postponement, which was adversely decided, though not by a formal vote.

Mr. Richardson, of Illinois, expressed the opinion that Mr. Richarbson, of Hinnois, expressed the opinion that if the authority of the government is everywhere to be restored it must be by saying to the great masses at the South, "You have done wrong; lay down your arms and you shall not be touched." He was in favor of saying this decisively.

Mr. Bipoliz, of Pennsylvania, thought they should be guarded, and not express any particular means of reconciliation.

Mr. Richardson, in further explanation, said he was it avor of applying the halter to the leaders of the rebel

Mr. White, of Ohio, wanted the language of the resolutions so plain that there could be no mistake.

Mr. Holman, of Indiana, said that he was a national man. The country could stand on the Critenden resolutions heretofore adopted by the House as to the object and purposes of the war better than any others. The time for offering an amnesty has not yet come. When the authority of the government is reestablished everywhere, then we should adopt a magnanimous and liberal policy towards those who have not been leaders in the robellion.

Mr. Allen, of Ohio, was sick and tired of bearing about confiscating property. When he saw acts stimulated by personal aggrandizement committed, and a Major General withdrawing from his command because he thought he did not occupy as high a position as he deserved, he confessed he discovered no indications of a speedy close of the war. He incidentally said the leaders of the rebellion should suffer the extreme penalties of the law.

or so the rebellion should suffer the extreme penalties of the law.

Mr. Mallory, of Kentucky, wanted the resolutions expressed in plain terms. He was opposed to generalities.

Mr. Parlie, of Missouri, after adverting to the resolution declaring "that such punishment should be indicted upon such of the guilty leaders as will satisfy public justice," &c., suggested as an amendment "that our government should adopt such wise measures of elemency as will tend to bring back a cordial reconciliation and peace to the whole country."

This was agreed to.

Mr. Hall, of Missouri, believed that if the abolition first should succeed in their confiscation and emancipation schemes they would produce serious embarrassment in the prosecution of the war; but he should not esse to struggle for the maintenance of the constitution and to trust in conservative influences and upon the judiciary.

Mr. Holman to true in conservative influences and upsi the judiciary.

Mr. Holman thought if these schemes were not re-bused their would be but little hopes for the country.

Mr. Rollins, of Missouri, was ready to vote for and sign the resolutions now. Although this was not a party meeting we are, he said, laying the foundation of an or-ganization which is to exert a great moral and political influence upon the country. affusuce upon the country.

Mr. Fours, of lilinois, regarded this as one of the mos

Feeling the great weight of our responsibility as memb of Congress, we have not in no party spirit nor for party purpose, but for the purpose of deliberating and c sulting together how we may best perform our Congressio duties in the present great and perflous crisis of our co try's fate, and we have come to the following conclusion viz:—

viz.—

1. Resolved, That the constitution and the Union and the laws must be preserved and maintained in all their proper and rightful supremacy, and that the rebellion now in arms against them must be suppressed and put down, and that it is our duty to vote fur all measures necessary and proper to hat sud.

is our duty to vots fur all measures necessary and proper to hat end.

2. Bosolved, That the true interests of the country, as well as the dictates of humanity, require that no more war or acts of war should be prosecuted or done than are necessary and proper for the complete suppression of the rebeillon.

3. Resolved that the States are component and essential parts of the Union, bound together inseparably by the constitution of the United States; that none of them can cease to exist as such so long as that constitution survives, and that it is the exclusive sphere and duty of the States to order and direct their own domestic affairs. While the rebellion, therefore, has not annulled the constitutional relations of the so-called "seecding States" to the federal government; neither has it divested these States of any rights or powers, municipal or otherwise, properly belonging to them as members of the rederal Union. The actual exercise of these powers and rights may for a time be interescribed.

exercise of these powers and rights may for a time be interrupted or obstructed by the rebellion, and some illegitimate authority may be substituted in its place; but as soon as that rebellion is suppressed these States will be entitled of right to resume the exercise of all the rights and powers, digities and immunities, which properly belong to them as States of the Union.

4. Resolved, That the present war, as avowed by the President and Congross, and understood by the people, was commenced and prosecuted for the purpose of suppressing the rebellion and preserving and vinducating the constitution, the Union and the laws—and for that purpose only. It was a great and noble purpose, high above any mere sectional or party objects, and at once it inspired and united in its support all loyal men of every creed, party and section. At the call of the gov rument a mighty army—the noblest and most patriotic ever known—sprung at once into the field, and is bleeding and conquering in defence of its government. Under these circumstances, it would, in our opinion, be most unjust and ungenerous to give any now character or direction to the war for the accomplishment of any mer party or sectional scheme.

5. Resolved, That the many and great victories lately schlewed by our armies and univies, whilst they ought to contince the world of the vast milliary power of our gov rument, give us the pleasing assurance that our deplorable evil war will soon be brought to see should the proper objects scomplishment of any mer; party or sections; echeme.

5. Resolved, That the many and great victories lately achieved by our armies and navies, whilst they ought to convince the world of the wast military power of our government, give us the pleasing assurance that our deplorable civil war will soon be brought to's close should the proper objects of the war, as hereinbefore defined, he kept steadily in view, when that is done, and when such punishment is inflete ion such of the gulliy leaders as will satisfy public justice, and upon such others as have made themselves conspicuous for crimes committed in the prosecution of the rebellion, it is our opinion that our government should adopt such which are such as a sure of elemency as will tend to bring back a cordial resonabilistion and peace to the whole country.

6. It solved, That the doctrines of the secessionists and of the abolitionists, as the latter are now represented in Congress, are alike false to the constitution and irreconcilation with the peace and unity of the country. The first have already involved us in a cruel civil war, and the others—the of confiscation, emancipation, end of the content of the country of the scheme of confiscation, emancipation, and others, if the scheme of confiscation, emancipation, and others, the scheme of confiscation, emancipation, and power to deprive any person of his property for any criminal offence, unless that it can have been first duly convicted of the effence by the verdict of a jury, and that all cats of Congress like those lately passed by the House of Representatives, which assume to forfeit or confiscate the estates of men for offences of which they have not been cavicted upon due trial by jury, are unconstitutional and lead to oppression and tyranny. It is no justification for such acts that the crimes committed in the prosecution of the robellion are of unexampled atrocity, nor is there any such justification as State necessity known to our government or laws.

8. Resolved, That the foregoing resolutions a
